

LOUISVILLE JOURNAL
PRINTED AND PUBLISHED BY
PRENTICE, HENDERSON, & OSBORNE.
Green Street, between Third and Fourth.

GEO. D. PRENTICE, Editors.

PAUL R. SHIMPAN, Editor.

UNION STATE TICKET.

FOR GOVERNOR,
THOMAS E. BRAMBLETT, of Adair.
FOR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR,
RICHARD T. JACOB, of Oldham.
FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL,
JOHN M. HARLAN, of Franklin.
FOR STATE TREASURER,
JAMES H. GARNETT, of Clark.
FOR AUDITOR OF STATE ACCOUNTS,
THOMAS PAGE, of Franklin.
FOR REGISTER OF LAND OFFICE,
JAMES A. DAWSON, of Hart.
FOR SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION,
DANIEL STEVENSON, of Franklin.

FOR CONGRESS,
ROBERT MALLORY,
of Oldham.

THURSDAY, JUNE 18, 1863.

The desperate efforts of the rebels to transfer the war from Virginia to the loyal States of Maryland and Pennsylvania are like the dying flurries of the whale, and will be productive of the most beneficial effects in concentrating the entire Union strength of the North and causing it to forget party feuds and partisan ambitions. Gov. Seymour, of New York, representing the Democracy, is getting the militia of his State in readiness for the secession of Pennsylvania, and several regiments have already been sent forward, while the Legislature of Rhode Island, which is Republican, has convened in extra session to consult for the general safety. Party will be forgotten, when war has "pealed her loud drum and twanged her trumpet home," and every freeman, animated with the spirit of patriotism, will rush to the imperiled standard of his country. "The Union must be preserved."

Now that our Board of Trade is organized and prepared for work, there are several subjects of vital importance to the interests of Louisville, and of course to the entire State, which will demand immediate attention. The absence of any authorized public association to represent the wants and disabilities under which we have labored, to the public authorities, has caused much inconvenience and positive detriment. A recent order has been published, for instance, allowing the sales of Government cotton to the cities of St. Louis and Cincinnati, without giving Louisville the slightest recognition. If the statistics of the business of our city could be collected, facts would show beyond controversy that Louisville in the year 1861-2 had a larger capital employed in the cotton trade, and bought and sold more of the staple than either St. Louis or Cincinnati. We have therefore had a great interest in this branch of trade; cotton has at all times found a ready market here, and large shipments have always been made. Under these circumstances, we think Louisville has a right to ask from the Secretary of the Treasury a more equal distribution of the allotments for the sale of cotton; we do not want anything but an equal division, one out of three of the states. There can be no doubt that when the proper representations are made to Secretary Chase he will promptly correct what he undoubtedly an oversight, or perhaps the Boards of Trade of St. Louis and Cincinnati have been vigilant to secure advantages for their respective cities, while Louisville has been criminally supine. It is not too late to obtain a remedy, for we have always found the Government ready to listen to our grievances and to remedy them, whenever the public safety would permit any relaxation from the strict orders which have become so imperatively necessary.

The restrictions which have been thrown over the commerce of our city, and borne by our business men for two years with such wonderful patience, seem at first consideration to have been inadvertently imposed. But investigation will show that this is not so, for all orders from the Treasury Department have been general, and the same restrictions of which we complain have been laid elsewhere, but have not been enforced. Kentucky has not merely been loyal to the government, but she has submitted to the strict enforcement of the laws, while her less punctilious rivals have violated the spirit and letter of the trade regulations and rushed goods to markets over our heads, without any regard to the public safety or the advantages which the rebellion might obtain from this indiscriminate traffic, and the relaxation of all the important rules which were intended to protect the loyal States in their general business. On this point, as on that of the cotton sales, there can be no doubt that proper representations to the Treasury Department will bring a speedy correction.

Another grievance of which we might complain bitterly, were it not that we have made no efficient effort against its continuance, is the virtual surrender of all the business of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad to rival trade, and the entire exclusion of all facilities for freight from our city. The vital interests of every mercantile manufacturing, and mechanical firm have suffered in immense detriment from the want of railroad transportation to accommodate our local trade. Adams Express has its "Army Freight Train," by which some cases goods may be sent to Nashville or Murfreesboro; but this does not answer the general want. It is almost impossible to get transportation for a hundred weight of freight to Bowling Green, and none can possibly be obtained for places on the right or left of that railroad, to the construction of which Louisville capital so materially contributed, and to complete which our city imposed taxes upon its own property and that of its citizens. On this point, as in the case of the cotton sales and the restrictions on general trade, there can be no question, it appears to us, that full and free consultation with the Treasury Department and the military authorities will result in the removal of all obstacles and the granting of the necessary permission to ship goods essential to the wants of the interior, to carry the government he lives under, to keep something like our old trade.

There are other matters which will engage the attention of the Board of Trade, and our people may now feel confident that they will have an active, vigilant, and influential custodian of their business interests. To render its exertions effective, there must be entire unity among all classes of business, and a spirit of unquestioned loyalty must be evinced, so that we can repel all efforts to stigmatize our city as sympathizing with rebellion. We do not deny that we have a lukewarm, if not a positively disloyal element among us, but it must be remembered that Cincinnati has developed the existence of the same element in its midst, and that the oath of allegiance has been swallowed with ugly grimaces, while in the Louisville Board of Trade an affirmation of loyalty is made a prerequisite to membership. We have already noticed the cheering fact that one hundred and ten firms were admitted to membership on Tuesday night, and these firms represent at least two hundred individuals, while another large accession is anticipated at the next meeting.

"The work goes bravely on." Our people have put their shoulders to the wheel in earnest, and therefore their appeals to the military or treasury Hercules cannot and will not be disregarded.

Mr. S. G. Lynch has in a card vowed himself as the "Acting Supervisor" on behalf of the Government of telegraphic despatches from Washington to the newspaper press. The announcement serves to confirm more decidedly our undying opposition to any thing like "Lynch law."

Alas that Puebla has fallen and Vicksburg hasn't.

A Voice from Richmond.

IMPORTANT STATEMENTS

AND A

Thrilling Narrative

OF THE

CAMPAGNA.

5,000 Copies Sold First Week.

SOUTHERN HISTORY OF THE WAR.

First Year of the War.

BY

E. A. POLLARD,

Editor Richmond Examiner,

AND

B. M. DEWITT,

Editor Richmond Enquirer.

1 Volume $1. Cleth, $2; Paper, $1.50.

PORTRAITS ON STEEL OF

Tennessee,

South Carolina,

Georgia,

Alabama, and

Louisiana

WANTED

by

A. BLAND, Banker,

16 duc.

W. KENNEDY CO., Bullitt st.

15 duc.

SEALING-WAX.

SEALING-WAX FOR FRUIT JARS AND CANS

W. KENNEDY CO., Bullitt st.

15 duc.

FRUIT JARS AND CANS.

W. KENNEDY CO., Bullitt st.

15 duc.

WHITE LIME.

750 EBDS in store for sale by

PITKIN, WIARD, & CO.

15 duc.

CEMENT.

500 EBDS for sale by

PITKIN, WIARD, & CO.

15 duc.

PLASTER PARIS.

100 EBDS Calc Plaster.

25 lbs White Plaster for sale by

PITKIN, WIARD, & CO.

15 duc.

STAGGS S. C. HAMS—50 lbs Steaks—sugar-cane juice 15 duc. for sale by

PITKIN, WIARD, & CO.

15 duc.

BREAKFAST BACON—2,000 lbs choice sugar-cane

Breakfast Bacon just received and for sale by

PITKIN, WIARD, & CO.

15 duc.

ENGLISH DAIRY CHEESE—50 lbs choice old

Dairy Cheese in store and for sale by

PITKIN, WIARD, & CO.

15 duc.

CREAM CHEESE—a full supply New York Cream

Cream Cheese, $1.00 per lb, and Sapadore Cheese in store and for sale by

PITKIN, WIARD, & CO.

15 duc.

FAMILY PLATE—50 lbs very pale White Wheat

Flour in store and for sale by

PITKIN, WIARD, & CO.

15 duc.

RUM—DOW & BURKHARDT—47 Market st.

15 duc.

GREEN & GREEN,

NASHVILLE,

Colleges street.

Summer Soft Hats.

COOL ZEPHYR UNDERWEAR.

Shirts and Underwear

MADE TO ORDER FROM MEASUREMENT.

MILITARY HATS, CAPS, AND

TRIMMINGS TO ORDER.

15 duc.

JUST RECEIVED

A large assortment of

MEN'S & BOYS' SOFT FELT HATS,

All colors and qualities, and of the latest styles; also

MEN'S & BOYS' STRAW HATS

AND

MILITARY HATS, CAPS, & TRIM-MING.

DRESS HATS

OF OUR MANUFACTURE,

Always on hand. Price $5 for the best.

PRATHER & SMITH.

J13

F. H. HEGAN

(Old House of Hegan & Co.)

Manufacturers of Glass and Dealer

In French & American Window-Glass,

Wall-Paper, Looking-Glasses,

Photograph and Ambrotype

Materials.

5 Particular attention is called to my assortment of fine Engravings, colored and uncolored, with which I am constantly adding the newest and best publications as they appear, and sending them to all parts of the world.

Office No. 41 Main street, Louisville, Ky.

Mr. N. B. STRELL—Special attention will be given to the negotiation of Commercial Paper, Loans, Stocks, Bonds, and Securities, and to the management of Capital and Money having to invest, and those desiring to obtain loans, will find it to their interest to call on me. We shall keep a register for all dealers of stocks.

GOVERNMENT VOUCHERS

And Orders for Certificates.

WE WILL PAY THE HIGHEST MARKET VALUE FOR GOVERNMENT VOUCHERS AND COM-MERCIAL CERTIFICATES.

JAMES E. TYLER & CO.,
No. 41 Main street, Louisville, Ky.

may 1st duc.

CONSIGNMENTS.

WE HAVE CONSIGNMENTS of the FOLLOW-

ING to our account which we are directed to close out for account of owners:

Fode, Lee's brand, H. L. P. & Co.

Claret Wine, St. Estephe and La Ross;

Port Wine, Chateau Brane-Cantenac;

Virginia Tobacco (only a few boxes);

White Wine, St. Emilion, etc.

Business will be conducted by the agents of James E. Tyler & Co.,

Opposite the corner of Main and Third.

15 duc.

S. DeWITT,

MILITARY SADDLERY

AND

HARNESS AND TRUNK

Manufacturer,

204 Third street, one door south of Main,

LOUISVILLE, KY.

Having commenced anew the above business, I will be pleased to have my old friends and commercia

lal

and new customers to call on me.

S. DeWITT,

Headquarters Act Gass'Prov Marshal

General for the State of Kentucky,

Major W. H. SIDLE, Esq., Attorney

THURSDAY, JUNE 18, 3 A. M.

Departure of Trains.

Louisville, New Albany, and Chicago R. R. 8:30 A. M.
St. Louis & Memphis Express 8:30 A. M.
Louisville, Frankfort, and Lexington R. R. 5:50 A. M.
Lexington, Frankfort, and Louisville 5:50 A. M.
Louisville and Nashville R. R. 5:50 A. M.
Passenger Train 5:50 A. M.
Jeffersonville R. R. 5:50 A. M.
Cincinatti, St. Louis, and Memphis Express 7:30 A. M.
East Express for Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Chicago, and the West 7:30 A. M.
Night Express to St. Louis, Cincinnati, 10:00 P. M.
Chicago, and the East 10:00 P. M.

In the course of two or three weeks we will be so perfect in machinery as to be able to deliver our paper by 5 o'clock A. M. In the meantime we hope our city subscribers will put up with any delay that may prevent their receiving the Journal at an early hour.

FLAG-RAISING.—Yesterday evening, about seven o'clock, a magnificent flag was raised in front of Col. Mundy's headquarters, corner of Sixth and Walnut streets. A pole about sixty feet high was first elevated in the presence of a large concourse of delighted people, and then the emblem of liberty, the glorious stars and stripes were run up amidst the wild shouts of the assembled multitude and the swelling strains of the ever-beautiful Star-Spangled Banner, played by the Post Silver Band. Under the auspices of Colonel Mundy, Major Wright, Captains Holden and Semple, and Lieut. Adams, the whole affair was conducted in a manner that highly gratified all present. Champagne was drunk, toasts proposed and responded to, and jests, repartees, and general joy made most agreeable the occasion. The Post Band executed several patriotic airs in a most animated manner, that thrilled the hearts of those who listened. At the close of the exercises Col. Mundy was called upon and responded with an eloquent and appropriate speech, which was full of devotion and patriotic love of the old flag whose folds have shielded us from many a trial and shall protect us forevermore! The gallant Colonel Mundy's speech was received with shouts of applause and the utmost satisfaction. The occasion was a fitting one to be enjoyed, and we are grossly mistaken if it was not.

Capt. Christopher H. Hale, of company G, 34th Kentucky infantry, writes to us from Boston, Nelson county, and seems to feel aggrieved at a statement in the Journal to the effect that his men were attacked by guerrillas while they were bathing. Some such report did get in our columns, and it would have been quite pardonable if, after an exciting chase, his boys had stopped to wash the dust and perspiration from their worned limbs. But we have already made the necessary correction. Captain Hale and his command rode nearly twenty-five miles in search of Hines and his gang, found them in the water bathing, attacked and utterly routed them, killing four, taking three prisoners and twenty horses, and a score or two of guns, and scattering them in all directions after a chase of six miles. Had not night intervened, the whole gang would have been captured. Captain Hale did not suffer a single casualty, and he and his boys rode over forty miles without food for the men or baiting for the horses.

ENLISTING FOR THE REBEL ARMY.—A man named Smith, from Bullitt county, has been secretly enlisting men for the Confederate army, in this city, for some time past, and passing them out through the country in disguise. He learned from some source that he was suspected, and made good his escape to Dixie. As near as can be ascertained, eighteen men have been thus enlisted and secretly got away by this saucy rebel. Perhaps he has got even more than the above number to volunteer for the rebel service—it is very difficult to tell. Who are we to trust? Is a momentous question that should engage the attention of both the military and civil officers in these "days that try men's souls." Is it at all strange that all men of doubtful loyalty should be looked upon with the watchful eye of suspicion when such things are among us? This instance assist to demonstrate more clearly the delicate duties of the military commanders of posts, cities, and towns.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—While our Sanitary Commission and other associations are doing all they can for the temporal wants of the soldiers, the Christian Commission has been zealously engaged in attending to their spiritual welfare. There will be a meeting this evening at the Chestnut-street Presbyterian Church, at 8 o'clock, at which George H. Stuart, Esq., the President of the parent society, at Philadelphia, and an eminent merchant, whose business with our city is very great, will give a grand matinee at three o'clock in the afternoon.

MASONIC TEMPLE.—The Panorama—The audience are increasing nightly at Masonic Temple, notwithstanding the excessively warm weather, which keeps many people away that would, otherwise, go to see the celebrated painting of Dr. Kew's Great Arctic Expedition among the ice regions of the far-north. No exhibition of the kind in this country has ever been so justly popular or attractive; and, aside from the paintings, which are well worth the price of admission, Mr. Seager sings some excellent ballads, and the musical Myron, the sledge-dog, performs a wonderful solo. On-tomorrow evening, and on Saturday also, Mr. Seager will give a grand matinee at three o'clock in the afternoon.

HILL'S GOLD PENS.—The New Albany Ledger understands that a woman, Mrs. Patterson, has been sentenced to, and is now an inmate of the Jeffersonville penitentiary, convicted before a court-martial of being a spy, whose case demands an investigation by the authorities at Washington. She is said to have been convicted on the evidence of a disreputable person. Her husband died in January, her eldest child in February, and she is soon again become a mother. Her father lives in Illinois, and she was trying to make her way to him, as she alleges, when she was arrested. Tossy the least, the sending of military prisoners, especially women, to an ordinary prison, to become the daily and hourly associates of husband-murders, child-murders, and common harlots, is a matter of very doubtful propriety. Mrs. P. is a member of the Presbyterian Church, and is much distressed at her approach to getting out of prison.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—A man named Smith, from Bullitt county, has been secretly enlisting men for the Confederate army, in this city, for some time past, and passing them out through the country in disguise. He learned from some source that he was suspected, and made good his escape to Dixie. As near as can be ascertained, eighteen men have been thus enlisted and secretly got away by this saucy rebel. Perhaps he has got even more than the above number to volunteer for the rebel service—it is very difficult to tell. Who are we to trust? Is a momentous question that should engage the attention of both the military and civil officers in these "days that try men's souls."

It is at all strange that all men of doubtful loyalty should be looked upon with the watchful eye of suspicion when such things are among us? This instance assist to demonstrate more clearly the delicate duties of the military commanders of posts, cities, and towns.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—While our Sanitary Commission and other associations are doing all they can for the temporal wants of the soldiers, the Christian Commission has been zealously engaged in attending to their spiritual welfare. There will be a meeting this evening at the Chestnut-street Presbyterian Church, at 8 o'clock, at which George H. Stuart, Esq., the President of the parent society, at Philadelphia, and an eminent merchant, whose business with our city is very great, will give a grand matinee at three o'clock in the afternoon.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—While our Sanitary Commission and other associations are doing all they can for the temporal wants of the soldiers, the Christian Commission has been zealously engaged in attending to their spiritual welfare. There will be a meeting this evening at the Chestnut-street Presbyterian Church, at 8 o'clock, at which George H. Stuart, Esq., the President of the parent society, at Philadelphia, and an eminent merchant, whose business with our city is very great, will give a grand matinee at three o'clock in the afternoon.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—While our Sanitary Commission and other associations are doing all they can for the temporal wants of the soldiers, the Christian Commission has been zealously engaged in attending to their spiritual welfare. There will be a meeting this evening at the Chestnut-street Presbyterian Church, at 8 o'clock, at which George H. Stuart, Esq., the President of the parent society, at Philadelphia, and an eminent merchant, whose business with our city is very great, will give a grand matinee at three o'clock in the afternoon.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—While our Sanitary Commission and other associations are doing all they can for the temporal wants of the soldiers, the Christian Commission has been zealously engaged in attending to their spiritual welfare. There will be a meeting this evening at the Chestnut-street Presbyterian Church, at 8 o'clock, at which George H. Stuart, Esq., the President of the parent society, at Philadelphia, and an eminent merchant, whose business with our city is very great, will give a grand matinee at three o'clock in the afternoon.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—While our Sanitary Commission and other associations are doing all they can for the temporal wants of the soldiers, the Christian Commission has been zealously engaged in attending to their spiritual welfare. There will be a meeting this evening at the Chestnut-street Presbyterian Church, at 8 o'clock, at which George H. Stuart, Esq., the President of the parent society, at Philadelphia, and an eminent merchant, whose business with our city is very great, will give a grand matinee at three o'clock in the afternoon.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—While our Sanitary Commission and other associations are doing all they can for the temporal wants of the soldiers, the Christian Commission has been zealously engaged in attending to their spiritual welfare. There will be a meeting this evening at the Chestnut-street Presbyterian Church, at 8 o'clock, at which George H. Stuart, Esq., the President of the parent society, at Philadelphia, and an eminent merchant, whose business with our city is very great, will give a grand matinee at three o'clock in the afternoon.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—While our Sanitary Commission and other associations are doing all they can for the temporal wants of the soldiers, the Christian Commission has been zealously engaged in attending to their spiritual welfare. There will be a meeting this evening at the Chestnut-street Presbyterian Church, at 8 o'clock, at which George H. Stuart, Esq., the President of the parent society, at Philadelphia, and an eminent merchant, whose business with our city is very great, will give a grand matinee at three o'clock in the afternoon.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—While our Sanitary Commission and other associations are doing all they can for the temporal wants of the soldiers, the Christian Commission has been zealously engaged in attending to their spiritual welfare. There will be a meeting this evening at the Chestnut-street Presbyterian Church, at 8 o'clock, at which George H. Stuart, Esq., the President of the parent society, at Philadelphia, and an eminent merchant, whose business with our city is very great, will give a grand matinee at three o'clock in the afternoon.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—While our Sanitary Commission and other associations are doing all they can for the temporal wants of the soldiers, the Christian Commission has been zealously engaged in attending to their spiritual welfare. There will be a meeting this evening at the Chestnut-street Presbyterian Church, at 8 o'clock, at which George H. Stuart, Esq., the President of the parent society, at Philadelphia, and an eminent merchant, whose business with our city is very great, will give a grand matinee at three o'clock in the afternoon.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—While our Sanitary Commission and other associations are doing all they can for the temporal wants of the soldiers, the Christian Commission has been zealously engaged in attending to their spiritual welfare. There will be a meeting this evening at the Chestnut-street Presbyterian Church, at 8 o'clock, at which George H. Stuart, Esq., the President of the parent society, at Philadelphia, and an eminent merchant, whose business with our city is very great, will give a grand matinee at three o'clock in the afternoon.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—While our Sanitary Commission and other associations are doing all they can for the temporal wants of the soldiers, the Christian Commission has been zealously engaged in attending to their spiritual welfare. There will be a meeting this evening at the Chestnut-street Presbyterian Church, at 8 o'clock, at which George H. Stuart, Esq., the President of the parent society, at Philadelphia, and an eminent merchant, whose business with our city is very great, will give a grand matinee at three o'clock in the afternoon.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—While our Sanitary Commission and other associations are doing all they can for the temporal wants of the soldiers, the Christian Commission has been zealously engaged in attending to their spiritual welfare. There will be a meeting this evening at the Chestnut-street Presbyterian Church, at 8 o'clock, at which George H. Stuart, Esq., the President of the parent society, at Philadelphia, and an eminent merchant, whose business with our city is very great, will give a grand matinee at three o'clock in the afternoon.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—While our Sanitary Commission and other associations are doing all they can for the temporal wants of the soldiers, the Christian Commission has been zealously engaged in attending to their spiritual welfare. There will be a meeting this evening at the Chestnut-street Presbyterian Church, at 8 o'clock, at which George H. Stuart, Esq., the President of the parent society, at Philadelphia, and an eminent merchant, whose business with our city is very great, will give a grand matinee at three o'clock in the afternoon.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—While our Sanitary Commission and other associations are doing all they can for the temporal wants of the soldiers, the Christian Commission has been zealously engaged in attending to their spiritual welfare. There will be a meeting this evening at the Chestnut-street Presbyterian Church, at 8 o'clock, at which George H. Stuart, Esq., the President of the parent society, at Philadelphia, and an eminent merchant, whose business with our city is very great, will give a grand matinee at three o'clock in the afternoon.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—While our Sanitary Commission and other associations are doing all they can for the temporal wants of the soldiers, the Christian Commission has been zealously engaged in attending to their spiritual welfare. There will be a meeting this evening at the Chestnut-street Presbyterian Church, at 8 o'clock, at which George H. Stuart, Esq., the President of the parent society, at Philadelphia, and an eminent merchant, whose business with our city is very great, will give a grand matinee at three o'clock in the afternoon.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—While our Sanitary Commission and other associations are doing all they can for the temporal wants of the soldiers, the Christian Commission has been zealously engaged in attending to their spiritual welfare. There will be a meeting this evening at the Chestnut-street Presbyterian Church, at 8 o'clock, at which George H. Stuart, Esq., the President of the parent society, at Philadelphia, and an eminent merchant, whose business with our city is very great, will give a grand matinee at three o'clock in the afternoon.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—While our Sanitary Commission and other associations are doing all they can for the temporal wants of the soldiers, the Christian Commission has been zealously engaged in attending to their spiritual welfare. There will be a meeting this evening at the Chestnut-street Presbyterian Church, at 8 o'clock, at which George H. Stuart, Esq., the President of the parent society, at Philadelphia, and an eminent merchant, whose business with our city is very great, will give a grand matinee at three o'clock in the afternoon.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—While our Sanitary Commission and other associations are doing all they can for the temporal wants of the soldiers, the Christian Commission has been zealously engaged in attending to their spiritual welfare. There will be a meeting this evening at the Chestnut-street Presbyterian Church, at 8 o'clock, at which George H. Stuart, Esq., the President of the parent society, at Philadelphia, and an eminent merchant, whose business with our city is very great, will give a grand matinee at three o'clock in the afternoon.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—While our Sanitary Commission and other associations are doing all they can for the temporal wants of the soldiers, the Christian Commission has been zealously engaged in attending to their spiritual welfare. There will be a meeting this evening at the Chestnut-street Presbyterian Church, at 8 o'clock, at which George H. Stuart, Esq., the President of the parent society, at Philadelphia, and an eminent merchant, whose business with our city is very great, will give a grand matinee at three o'clock in the afternoon.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—While our Sanitary Commission and other associations are doing all they can for the temporal wants of the soldiers, the Christian Commission has been zealously engaged in attending to their spiritual welfare. There will be a meeting this evening at the Chestnut-street Presbyterian Church, at 8 o'clock, at which George H. Stuart, Esq., the President of the parent society, at Philadelphia, and an eminent merchant, whose business with our city is very great, will give a grand matinee at three o'clock in the afternoon.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—While our Sanitary Commission and other associations are doing all they can for the temporal wants of the soldiers, the Christian Commission has been zealously engaged in attending to their spiritual welfare. There will be a meeting this evening at the Chestnut-street Presbyterian Church, at 8 o'clock, at which George H. Stuart, Esq., the President of the parent society, at Philadelphia, and an eminent merchant, whose business with our city is very great, will give a grand matinee at three o'clock in the afternoon.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—While our Sanitary Commission and other associations are doing all they can for the temporal wants of the soldiers, the Christian Commission has been zealously engaged in attending to their spiritual welfare. There will be a meeting this evening at the Chestnut-street Presbyterian Church, at 8 o'clock, at which George H. Stuart, Esq., the President of the parent society, at Philadelphia, and an eminent merchant, whose business with our city is very great, will give a grand matinee at three o'clock in the afternoon.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—While our Sanitary Commission and other associations are doing all they can for the temporal wants of the soldiers, the Christian Commission has been zealously engaged in attending to their spiritual welfare. There will be a meeting this evening at the Chestnut-street Presbyterian Church, at 8 o'clock, at which George H. Stuart, Esq., the President of the parent society, at Philadelphia, and an eminent merchant, whose business with our city is very great, will give a grand matinee at three o'clock in the afternoon.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—While our Sanitary Commission and other associations are doing all they can for the temporal wants of the soldiers, the Christian Commission has been zealously engaged in attending to their spiritual welfare. There will be a meeting this evening at the Chestnut-street Presbyterian Church, at 8 o'clock, at which George H. Stuart, Esq., the President of the parent society, at Philadelphia, and an eminent merchant, whose business with our city is very great, will give a grand matinee at three o'clock in the afternoon.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—While our Sanitary Commission and other associations are doing all they can for the temporal wants of the soldiers, the Christian Commission has been zealously engaged in attending to their spiritual welfare. There will be a meeting this evening at the Chestnut-street Presbyterian Church, at 8 o'clock, at which George H. Stuart, Esq., the President of the parent society, at Philadelphia, and an eminent merchant, whose business with our city is very great, will give a grand matinee at three o'clock in the afternoon.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—While our Sanitary Commission and other associations are doing all they can for the temporal wants of the soldiers, the Christian Commission has been zealously engaged in attending to their spiritual welfare. There will be a meeting this evening at the Chestnut-street Presbyterian Church, at 8 o'clock, at which George H. Stuart, Esq., the President of the parent society, at Philadelphia, and an eminent merchant, whose business with our city is very great, will give a grand matinee at three o'clock in the afternoon.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—While our Sanitary Commission and other associations are doing all they can for the temporal wants of the soldiers, the Christian Commission has been zealously engaged in attending to their spiritual welfare. There will be a meeting this evening at the Chestnut-street Presbyterian Church, at 8 o'clock, at which George H. Stuart, Esq., the President of the parent society, at Philadelphia, and an eminent merchant, whose business with our city is very great, will give a grand matinee at three o'clock in the afternoon.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—While our Sanitary Commission and other associations are doing all they can for the temporal wants of the soldiers, the Christian Commission has been zealously engaged in attending to their spiritual welfare. There will be a meeting this evening at the Chestnut-street Presbyterian Church, at 8 o'clock, at which George H. Stuart, Esq., the President of the parent society, at Philadelphia, and an eminent merchant, whose business with our city is very great, will give a grand matinee at three o'clock in the afternoon.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—While our Sanitary Commission and other associations are doing all they can for the temporal wants of the soldiers, the Christian Commission has been zealously engaged in attending to their spiritual welfare. There will be a meeting this evening at the Chestnut-street Presbyterian Church, at 8 o'clock, at which George H. Stuart, Esq., the President of the parent society, at Philadelphia, and an eminent merchant, whose business with our city is very great, will give a grand matinee at three o'clock in the afternoon.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—While our Sanitary Commission and other associations are doing all they can for the temporal wants of the soldiers, the Christian Commission has been zealously engaged in attending to their spiritual welfare. There will be a meeting this evening at the Chestnut-street Presbyterian Church, at 8 o'clock, at which George H. Stuart, Esq., the President of the parent society, at Philadelphia, and an eminent merchant, whose business with our city is very great, will give a grand matinee at three o'clock in the afternoon.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—While our Sanitary Commission and other associations are doing all they can for the temporal wants of the soldiers, the Christian Commission has been zealously engaged in attending to their spiritual welfare. There will be a meeting this evening at the Chestnut-street Presbyterian Church, at 8 o'clock, at which George H. Stuart, Esq., the President of the parent society, at Philadelphia, and an eminent merchant, whose business with our city is very great, will give a grand matinee at three o'clock in the afternoon.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—While our Sanitary Commission and other associations are doing all they can for the temporal wants of the soldiers, the Christian Commission has been zealously engaged in attending to their spiritual welfare. There will be a meeting this evening at the Chestnut-street Presbyterian Church, at 8 o'clock, at which George H. Stuart, Esq., the President of the parent society, at Philadelphia, and an eminent merchant, whose business with our city is very great, will give a grand matinee at three o'clock in the afternoon.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—While our Sanitary Commission and other associations are doing all they can for the temporal wants of the soldiers, the Christian Commission has been zealously engaged in attending to their spiritual welfare. There will be a meeting this evening at the Chestnut-street Presbyterian Church, at 8 o'clock, at which George H. Stuart, Esq., the President of the parent society, at Philadelphia, and an eminent merchant, whose business with our city is very great, will give a grand matinee at three o'clock in the afternoon.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—While our Sanitary Commission and other associations are doing all they can for the temporal wants of the soldiers, the Christian Commission has been zealously engaged in attending to their spiritual welfare. There will be a meeting this evening at the Chestnut-street Presbyterian Church, at 8 o'clock, at which George H. Stuart, Esq., the President of the parent society, at Philadelphia, and an eminent merchant, whose business with our city is very great, will give a grand matinee at three o'clock in the afternoon.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—While our Sanitary Commission and other associations are doing all they can for the temporal wants of the soldiers, the Christian Commission has been zealously engaged in attending to their spiritual welfare. There will be a meeting this evening at the Chestnut-street Presbyterian Church, at 8 o'clock, at which George H. Stuart, Esq., the President of the parent society, at Philadelphia, and an eminent merchant, whose business with our city is very great, will give a grand matinee at three o'clock in the afternoon.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—While our Sanitary Commission and other associations are doing all they can for the temporal wants of the soldiers, the Christian Commission has been zealously engaged in attending to their spiritual welfare. There will be a meeting this evening at the Chestnut-street Presbyterian Church, at 8 o'clock, at which George H. Stuart, Esq., the President of the parent society, at Philadelphia, and an eminent merchant, whose business with our city is very great, will give a grand matinee at three o'clock in the afternoon.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—While our Sanitary Commission and other associations are doing all they can for the temporal wants of the soldiers, the Christian Commission has been zealously engaged in attending to their spiritual welfare. There will be a meeting this evening at the Chestnut-street Presbyterian Church, at 8 o'clock, at which George H. Stuart, Esq., the President of the parent society, at Philadelphia, and an eminent merchant, whose business with our city is very great, will give a grand matinee at three o'clock in the afternoon.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—While our Sanitary Commission and other associations are doing all they can for the temporal wants of the soldiers, the Christian Commission has been zealously engaged in attending to their spiritual welfare. There will be a meeting this evening at the Chestnut-street Presbyterian Church, at 8 o'clock, at which George H. Stuart, Esq., the President of the parent society, at Philadelphia, and an eminent merchant, whose business with our city is very great, will give a grand matinee at three o'clock in the afternoon.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—While our Sanitary Commission and other associations are doing all they can for the temporal wants of the soldiers, the Christian Commission has been zealously engaged in attending to their spiritual welfare. There will be a meeting this evening at the Chestnut-street Presbyterian Church, at 8 o'clock, at which George H. Stuart, Esq., the President of the parent society, at Philadelphia, and an eminent merchant, whose business with our city is very great, will give a grand matinee at three o'clock in the afternoon.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—While our Sanitary Commission and other associations are doing all they can for the temporal wants of the soldiers, the Christian Commission has been zealously engaged in attending to their spiritual welfare. There will be a

